Enantioselective additions of arylboronic acids and arylboroxines to 2-iodoaniline derivatives were achieved by the catalytic asymmetric direct nucleophilic cyanation of 2-iodoindenylboronates. This transformation provided access to a range of optically active indenyl nucleophiles. The potential utility of these compounds was demonstrated by a highly efficient catalytic enantioselective synthesis of the enantiomerically pure 2-halo-1-indanyl derivatives. In particular, the easy access to chiral 2-halo-1-indanyl boronates serves as a platform for the future development of asymmetric C-N cross-coupling reactions.SUPER VALUE FANTASTIC Double Points to All Hensway players who Join before 15th August 2014 26 Aug, 2014 Any Hensway players who join before the end of this month will receive double 'Resplendent Points' for their previous competitions.
