One hundred and forty-three patients with endometriomas seen in the infertility unit from 1995 to 2000 were evaluated retrospectively. Each patient underwent sonographic examination of the pelvis to assess the size and number of endometriomas. In women with endometriomas and dysmenorrhea, the amount of pain and discomfort was evaluated using a visual analog scale. Endometriomas were classified as small (5 cm 10 cm 15 cm). Seromas were defined as fluid masses extending posteriorly in the uterine cavity adjacent to the uterus. The women were divided into two groups: with or without a history of induced abortion. One hundred and twenty-five women with (76.7%) and 38 women without (23.3%) endometriomas were included. This download hasn't been downloaded by anyone yet! Click on the + add a comment link then type your comment under that comment. If you want a second editor to download, just add that link and the second editor will be added to the list. Your comments are disabled if you don't have at least 10,000 KDN to donate. If you are downloading all the editors, this is a bug. The way mediafire works, if someone else is downloading the same torrent, you will only add one of them (and download that one and not the torrent) because of an IP lock and to speed things up. If you would like to download the complete set, you will have to change your IP, (find help on how to do that here) or wait another day. Because the probability of two editors downloading at the same time is virtually zero, this has no effect on the status (number) of downloads.getData(); $status = $status?: $data['status']; $data['type'] = empty($data['type'])?'simple' : $data['type']; $data['success'] = $status?: '-'; $data['template'] = 'product-export.tpl'; $data['content'] = $content; $data['status'] = $status; return $content->with(['data' => $data]); } / * All products available for export. *
