As far as I can tell, the script is running fine, but the results are not being returned. $record = ""; $sql = "UPDATE `cc_blogs` SET `blog_content_string` = :content_string WHERE `id` = :id"; if ($result = $mysqli->prepare($sql)) { $result->bind_param("ss", $record, $id); $result->execute(); $result->close(); } if ($result = $mysqli->prepare($sql)) { $result->bind_param("ss", $record, $id); $result->bind_result($content_string); $result->execute(); $result->bind_result($blog_id); while ($result->fetch()) { unset($blog_id); if ($result->num_rows == 0) { $blog_id = $id;

I have an assignment to do that requires me to transform an image using the Photoshop Filter on an image that I have on my computer. I am having a little bit of trouble figuring out how to do this, so, could someone please help me? Thanks in advance. A: This has been answered many times before, but since you are new you should try this:

Open a blank (or saved) picture in Photoshop and set the image type to 32-bit RGB - you can do that by going to Image > Mode and choosing RGB from the drop-down menu. Don't worry, it's easy to change back later. Now comes the hard part. Create a channel mask by going to Image > Adjust > Channel Mixer (or by Shift+K) and click on the Mask channel. Press Ctrl+N to convert the mask to a new channel (which is not a mask channel). Now, edit the mask layer (the new converted channel layer, which is grey and flat) with some basic edits such as Levels and Brightness/Contrast. Repeat this for both colour channels. I have already answered a similar question here, please consider reading it carefully and make sure you have the correct image data before attempting this. If your image is JPEG, then it should be 8-bit, RGB, with BGR channels, and it has to be saved as 8-bit, uncompressed. The annual Ring Parade, which is traditionally held in an area called the Ring of Kerry, is a street party that attracted 30,000 people in 2012. On Sunday, the fireworks will go off at 11:19 p.m. Festivities will include a huge fireworks display over the sea, the Celebrity Ring Parade in the streets of Killarney and the Irish Music Festival. Foreign tourists come to this place in large numbers and spend over one week in this place. There are nearly 23,000 holiday homes in the Connemara region of West Ireland. According to the Killarney tourism board, there are 500 luxury homes in the town of Killarney and nearly 4,000 residences in Strokestown. The 2008 Guinness Book of World Records title for the world's biggest village street party is in the Loughs, near the town of Ballyvourney in Ireland, where 1,500 people danced in the main street for three days. The celebration was capped by Guinness World Records's 6d1f23a050
