Plasminogen activator inhibitor type 2 (PAI-2), a serine proteinase inhibitor, may participate in the hemostatic mechanism. The present study examines the circulating level of PAI-2 in healthy subjects and in patients with Down's syndrome (DS). The soluble PAI-2 concentration was measured in 40 healthy subjects and 40 patients with DS. The results demonstrate that the level of PAI-2 in plasma from patients with DS is significantly reduced compared to the values obtained in the healthy controls. No correlation was found between the PAI-2 values and the lipid levels. The different PAI-2 concentrations found in DS and in controls suggest the presence of different levels of PAI-2 in each sex and age group. The data indicate that, in the DS plasma, the presence of another PAI-2 inhibitor species may counteract the PAI-2 activity. 487 P.2d 1256 (1971) CITY OF HAWAIIAN GARDENS, LTD., a Hawaii Corporation, Plaintiff-Appellee, v.
