[Effect of chitosan coated on the proliferation and uptake of mesenchymal stem cells on stainless steel]. The aim of this study was to investigate the effect of chitosan coated on the proliferation and uptake of mesenchymal stem cells (MSC) on stainless steel. In this research, sterilized 316 L stainless steel (SS) was used as the substrate. The SS surfaces were modified by coating chitosan (1 mg/L), with sodium alginate (1 mg/L) as a well-known nuclei swelling. And the proliferation and uptake of MSC on the modified SS were investigated by inverted optical microscopy, confocal microscopy, scanning electron microscope (SEM), and energy dispersive spectroscopy (EDS). The results showed that the proliferation of MSC on the modified SS was higher than that of the unmodified SS, and the MSC on chitosan coated SS exhibited a higher proliferation than on the other modified SS. Chitosan did not change the uptake of MSC, but it increased the uptake of MSC on the modified SS. It was believed that chitosan improved the proliferation of MSC on the modified SS and promoted the uptake of MSC on the modified SS. want to." "We'll be ok." "No, it's not that." "Oh, it's school?" "Pfft!" "No." "I've been thinking about you and the other guys." "Like, when you're with a girl, you're both thinking about sex, right?" "Yeah, sure." "So do you think I could be one of the guys you're thinking about?" "Told you I'd get it." "Oh, my God." "Do you know who I am?" "I'm sorry." "I can't--I can't see you right now." "Yeah
