instructions. Tomorrow (Oct. 13) is the big day, folks: Prime Day. Well, technically it should be Prime Days, because the colossal shopping event will be taking place on both Tuesday, Oct. 13, and Wednesday, Oct. 14. We're in for a lot of great deals coming our way, so make sure that both your wallet and shopping cart are primed (get it?) and ready to start scooping up those discounts. We've all been spending a lot more time indoors lately, and that time is only going to increase as the colder weather rolls in. That means it's probably a good idea to keep your living space tidy so you don't end up going crazy. The Dyson V11 Origin is one of the brand's best stick vacuums, and it's $100 off at Best Buy ahead of Prime Day. It has really strong suction power for deep cleaning, works on all floor types, and can convert to a handheld mode, among other things. Once you've added your new tech to your cart, head to the payment page at checkout. Underneath the payment options, click on the "Use a Best Buy Gift Card, Store Credit or Discount Code" button to reveal where you can paste one of our Best Buy promo codes. Make the most of your old tech by trading it in for the latest models at a reduced price. Use their user-friendly estimator to see what your item is worth and trade it in for a gift card that you can use on any of their products. The Best Buy Trade-In Program is the best way to shop sales and do your part to help the environment all at the same time. Explore the best of must-have tech with a few Best Buy coupons designed to help you save big! From home appliances to that just-launched gaming console, we have tons of discounts, including discount codes, available so you can take it home today at an even more affordable price. When the cart page is loaded, the cart information can be located with a headings command. Use the Arrow keys or any other navigation method to review the contents of the cart. Just below the Cart heading is a button to Continue Shopping. The checkout button is below the cart information and information about what other customers bought who also purchased this item. On the next page, activate the Checkout button. On the following page, choose "Continue as Guest" unless you already have a Best Buy account. Because the checkout form has proper labels, the checkout process is straightforward. Review all entered information carefully before you submit an order. At the bottom of the Best Buy app's homescreen are five tabs: Home, Products, Stores, Card, and More. The Home screen has a search form and many unlabeled buttons. The Products tab includes the search form, a list of several popular products, and a wide variety of categories similar to those on the website. The Stores tab has a list of the stores nearby and the Cart tab shows what is in your cart. The More tab has options including Order Status, Rewards, and Best Buy credit card. I selected Bose. On the next page was information including price, description of the headphones, and customer ratings. There is an "Add to Cart" button near the bottom of the listing. If an item is added to the cart, there is verification that the item has been added. There is an option to continue shopping and an option to check out. Unfortunately, the show stopper here is that the Shopping Cart is not accessible. With sighted assistance, I learned that the item I put in my cart was there along with an option to check out. This information was not accessible with VoiceOver. It looks like you're using an old version of Internet Explorer. For the best experience on our site, please update your browser. You have to add the TV to your shopping cart to see the deal price. Shipping is free. We took the time to assemble a list of the best rolling tv mount carts for flatscreen televisions and monitors. We favored units with heavy-duty construction that were compatible with VESA standard mounts and had lockable wheels for secure use. We also liked carts and rolling tv stands with cable management features and extensive adjustability for height, angle, and tilt, and which were appropriate for outdoor use. To ensure that you have the right gadgets to enrich your entertainment space, look for great options in our best TV accessories guide. Of the models we tested, the VIVO Mobile Rolling TV Mount Cart was the best, for its heavy-duty built quality, sturdy main mount, and mid-shelving capable of storing heavy monitors and equipment, high adjustability, and excellent cable management system. Keep reading to see the rest of the models on our list. The integrated cable management system is easy to use and keeps multiple cables tangle-free and out of sight better than most. The entire unit is on the heavier side compared to some others, and the included assembly tools could be better, but most will find it easy to put together. If you want other ways to upgrade your TV, take a look at our guide to the best TV accessories. Finally, we generally liked carts with a built-in cable management system to hide unsightly cables and those that featured heavy-duty lockable wheel casters or some other method to keep the cart steady as you go about using the unit, and all Getting a TV stand with closing cabinets for storage is your best bet at protecting your baby and your electronics. This will reduce the chance of their discovery and solve the problem before it even begins! Shelves are your best friend when you have little ones. A house with plenty of out-of-reach shelving is a safe house. Keep things up high, yet out of limited storage closets and bins, to help reduce clutter.
